Tutoring Experience

Over the past two years, I've worked closely with IB students to help them excel in their psychology coursework. I provide targeted support for Internal Assessments and Extended Essays, ensuring students meet all the necessary requirements for success. My approach is rooted in helping each student develop a thorough understanding of psychological concepts.

In addition to IB Psychology, I've supported students in IGCSE and A-Level Psychology, focusing on exam preparation and concept mastery. My experience also includes helping students with research methods and projects, providing them with the skills needed for both academic and future career success.
