Tutoring Experience

For the past eight years, I've supported students in achieving excellence in IB Maths, A-Level, and IGCSE exams. My approach has always been to focus on understanding each student's individual learning style, which helps them master complex concepts and perform well in exams.

I also offer tailored preparation for AP Calculus and other advanced topics, working with students to ensure they excel in competitive university entrance exams. My goal is to help each learner achieve their academic dreams and develop confidence in their mathematical skills.
